Mays participates in leadership program

Lori Beth Mays, Principal of Lemons Mill Elementary School, participated in the Kentucky Leadership Institute for Principals through the Center for Creative Leadership. The program offered support and guidance from 27 other principals in addition to instructors and a personal coach. This support system provided enhanced leadership training and resources for Mays as she opened a new school this year.

Partnership between 9th, RSMS

Ninth Grade School Counselor Mark Cook recently worked with Royal Spring to do small-group informational sessions about high school scheduling. According to RSMS Counselor Angela Fraley, this experience was very helpful for students. RSMS continually strives to make a difference for kids. Fraley is certain this made a difference. The students were engaged in the information that will impact their high school career. They were intentional with their questions and gained a great understanding of the process of planning their high school years.
